ATR VERDICT: CRECORA HILLS won a Naas handicap hurdle and opened her account over fences at the same track when readily taking a 2m4f handicap in November. She was subsequently placed here off her revised mark and may have been found a decent opportunity to add to her tally. Nine Graces has won over hurdles and fences at this venue, including an impressive success over a similar trip early last year. She indicated a return to form here last month and may pose more of a threat than Sophia Rose, who steps up in trip after a creditable fourth at the Limerick Christmas meeting. Gaoth Chuil is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: TOO HOT TO TANGO has already been placed three times and staying in novice company can help Hughie Morrison's consistent filly get off the mark. Nuptown Girl is respected after a close second on her debut for Ian Williams in a similar race at Southwell. A repeat of that should see her in the mix. Bronte Beach, who was picked up cheaply by Archie Watson from Godolphin, can also figure with a step forward from her sole start for the Gospdens last year.

ATR VERDICT: HIGH ON HOPE, who supplemented a Chelmsford triumph with a cosy win over C&D, is a key player bidding to compete a hat-trick from bottom weight. He is back up in class and this isn't a straightforward task, but he is worth sticking with. The Lost King resumed from a break to score over 7f here and is a big threat if in the same mood, with Oisin Murphy reunited to judge the fractions back over a mile. Popmaster and Nikovo should also be thereabouts.

ATR VERDICT: Gordon Elliott's AGAMEOFTWOHALVES could be the answer to this maiden hurdle. There was some promise in his sixths in big fields at Navan and Naas before a remote fourth behind an impressive winner at Fairyhouse. Testing ground holds no fears for him and he's related to a couple of horses who have winning form over this sort of distance. Loyal Praetorian will enjoy this trip and ground, and wasn't done with in second when he departed at the penultimate flight at Limerick over Christmas. A step up in distance is likely to suit Good Option, who can get in the mix. Harpy Eagle has plenty of placed form, although that has all been on better ground.

ATR VERDICT: COURT OF SESSION returned to winning ways in style at Wolverhampton last week and the manner of that success gave the impression that a 4lb penalty may not be enough to stop him from backing it up. The fact that Connor Planas takes 3lb off further enhances his credentials and he is tough to oppose. Portoro has been consistent in recent months and has to be respected following his second here over 6f. Others to note are Bullington Bry, who sports cheekpieces for the first time, and Sanditon.

Long Handicap: James The Brave 9 - 13

ATR VERDICT: LUMIERE DU LARGE could be worth chancing on handicap debut. She had useful form in France and was tried in Grade 1 company at Cheltenham and Punchestown on her first couple of starts for Willie Mullins. She was unplaced on both occasions and finished fourth in a maiden hurdle at Cork in December, but the suspicion is that there is more to come from her. The handicapper didn't miss Needs Must's victory in a maiden hurdle at Fairyhouse and he looks a big player, despite carrying top-weight. Take Stock and Mojoe are others capable of being in the mix.

ATR VERDICT: FILLYOUREYE is taken to overturn Cork form with Frankie's Freebie on this ground. He was adrift of the winner in third, but prior to that he filled the runner-up berth behind useful sorts on testing ground at Navan and at this track. Frankie's Freebie is a former point-to-point winner who has been placed in both maiden hurdles to date, so merits plenty of respect. That Danny Feeling, who has two bumper victories in the book, is a consistent horse and is well worth a market check on this step up in trip, while Lord Tobin and Bergamasquo are potential improvers over this trip.

ATR VERDICT: Dust Cover successfully made it two wins from his last three starts at Southwell and holds an obvious chance, but a 2lb higher mark makes life tougher. With that in mind, IMPERIAL TROOPER gets the nod. Jennie Candlish's charge bounced back to form when filling the runner-up spot at Newcastle and a repeat of that performance might suffice. Of the remainder, two-time course winner Fiddlers Green makes the most appeal.

ATR VERDICT: Slotty Dotty has been chasing, but was a decisive winner over a similar trip at this racecourse just over a year ago and competes off 2lb lower with Calum Hogan's claim factored in. Pebble Bleu is sure to be popular after winning at Thurles last week, where she availed of a good ride off the front and reappears under the mandatory 7lb penalty. Magic Boum gets first-time cheekpieces after a fourth at Navan, while Watching The Clock generally runs her race and tries 2m7f for the first time. Catchabird attempts a new trip in a bid to make the elusive breakthrough.

ATR VERDICT: Dr Ali accounted for Magna by a neck over track and trip last month and it would be no surprise to see him confirm that form, despite the revised terms. Man On A Mission lurks on a tempting mark and is noted, but CUBAN FIESTA gets the vote. The five-year-old produced an improved display to take the silver medal home over 7f at Lingfield and can cope with this drop in trip to go one better.

ATR VERDICT: Getaway With You hasn't finished outside the top three in each of his last seven starts, most recently filling the runner-up spot at Fakenham, and is likely to be thereabouts. The booking of Brian Hughes on handicap debutant Peckforton Hills is interesting, but JUKEBOX JOKER might be the one. Evan Williams' charge went in by three lengths in this class at Warwick and can defy a 5lb rise to record a double.

ATR VERDICT: After six wins in his last seven starts in hunter chases and point-to-points, BARTON SNOW is impossible to overlook. A slight concern is that he's only raced once since May, but he won by a distance at Sheriff Hutton last month and the signs were all positive. The consistent Jeffery's Cross is the pick of the rest based on his best form under Rules. This represents a big drop in class and he must be taken seriously. What A Glance completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: TEARDROPS has improved 15lb since November, recording three C&D victories during that time, and finished a good second over track and trip on his latest outing. Competing off an unchanged mark, the four-year-old can continue on his upward curve. Laurens Dream sports first-time blinkers after finding one too good in a classified stakes at Southwell and won't have any issues dropping back a furlong in trip. Asadjumeirah looks best of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: It's hard to get away from SPARTAN FIGHTER, who completed a C&D hat-trick last month and is now 5lb higher. Based on the manner of his most recent success, the son of Dutch Art can go in again. Yorkshire Glory finished fourth behind the selection prior to sporting first-time cheekpieces to score over track and trip, He has to be considered along with Pit Boss, who is still in search of a first career victory.

Long Handicap: Yaahobby 8 - 8

ATR VERDICT: Bibendum and Spun To Gold have decent records at this venue, but recent efforts would have been costly to follow. Yaahobby likes it here too, although he is 1lb wrong at the weights and carries the associated risk. With all that considered, a chance is taken that the well-bred RAJSTAR leaves his past form behind to make a successful handicap debut over a trip that could prove ideal.

ATR VERDICT: With an official rating of 83, HAYYNAH could be hard to beat if she runs anywhere near that mark. It's worth noting that she was pitched into a Listed event on her penultimate start and time may tell that she encountered an above-average rival when she was turned over by a promising debutant subsequently. This is a realistic resumption point and the daughter of Showcasing will enhance her paddock value if successful. Champonie and Noble Gentleman are interesting newcomers to keep an eye on.

ATR VERDICT: Arnhem is a contender after a recent near-miss over C&D, although the still-enthusiastic 10-year-old went up 3lb and the burden of top weight does him no favours. The vote goes to MISSION COMMAND, whose last win (on turf) came off 5lb higher. Still unexposed on the all-weather, the Jennie Candlish-trained gelding is capable of getting his head in front again now back over the suitable minimum trip. King's Crown and Monks Dream complete the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: WRIST ART has turned a corner on his last couple of starts, with placed efforts at Wolverhampton and Lingfield, and the drop back to a mile appears to give James Owen's gelding a fine opportunity to gain a first success in the UK. Annalee Lass took a step back in the right direction when third here last month and a first-time visor may bring about improvement. That Lucas Fella and Sir Maxi complete the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: PALLAS LORD has been knocking on the door recently, which includes him finishing a neck second over C&D last Saturday. The eight-year-old has Rhys Elliott's 3lb claim to aid his cause and that could help to make the difference as he bids to get back to winning ways. Concert Boy has been running with plenty of credit after scoring here in December. He enters the reckoning along with Sea Legend and Sherlock.
